Subscription Advantage Pack for AutoCAD® MEP 2010

The Subscription Advantage Pack for AutoCAD MEP 2010 extends the duct transition capabilities of AutoCAD MEP 2010 software. This pack also includes Autodesk® ImageModeler™ 2009 software.

AutoCAD MEP customers can also access the Autodesk Subscription Advantage Pack for AutoCAD Architecture 2010 to find features for renovation and retrofit projects, as well as functionality that can help streamline existing workflows.

FEATURES AND BENEFITS

- 1. Duct Transition Extension 2010—Connect complex duct layouts with the Duct Transition Extension 2010. New duct transition tools help you connect parallel duct segments of different sizes and/or elevations.
 - Custom fittings—Automatically insert custom fittings between 2 selected objects.
 - Manage connections—Create connections between similarly shaped duct segments, duct fittings, or Multi-View parts that are parallel to one another.
- 2. Autodesk ImageModeler 2009—Use 2D digital photographs to more quickly create, edit, and texture 3D models for building renovation projects and energy-efficiency analysis. Bridging the 2D and 3D worlds via DWG™, ImageModeler 2009 enables you to:
 - Capture building design elements
 - Take measurements
 - Create 3D models based on the form of existing buildingsBy leveraging models developed directly from the physical environment, ImageModeler 2009 helps mechanical, electrical, and plumbing (MEP) engineers better integrate improvements or renovations in their CAD projects.
- 3. Access the Autodesk® Subscription Advantage Pack for AutoCAD® Architecture 2010—locate features for renovation and retrofit projects, as well as functionality that can help streamline existing workflows.
 - Renovation Extension 2010—Speed design and production of renovation projects with the Renovation Extension. New renovation-specific tools help users create renovation plans with correct representation of existing, new, and demolition plans.
 - Productivity Extension 2010—Create custom columns/custom column grids, and place doors and windows faster with new functionality in the Productivity Extension.
